Care and use of your Sligh Product

The beauty of Sligh wood furniture can be maintained by periodically using self-cleaning furniture polish (like Pledge). Soap and water is not a thorough cleaner for wood products. Self-cleaning furniture polishes contain wax and solvents that maintain luster and provide adequate cleaning under most circumstances. If a more thorough cleaning is necessary, use odorless mineral spirits. Furniture that has been cared for with silicone polish can be successfully refinished. Proper cleaning of the surface with odorless mineral spirits before and after stripping and sanding will remove the silicone, along with dirt, grease and oil.

Consistency in room temperature and humidity is recommended for wood furniture. Avoid exposing wood furniture to extreme changes in temperature, which may cause fractures in the finish, joints or veneers.

Limited Warranty

Sligh Furniture Co. warrants its products, except to the extent limited below, to be free from defects in material and workmanship under normal use for a period of one year from date of purchase by the original consumer. If a problem develops with the product as a result of a defect in materials or workmanship, please contact your authorized Sligh dealer immediately. Requests for service, parts or returns should be presented to Sligh Furniture Co. by the authorized Sligh dealer. Sligh Furniture Co.'s obligation under this warranty is limited to repair or replacement at the sole option of Sligh Furniture Co. This warranty does not apply to damage due to negligence, modification or other causes unrelated to defective materials or workmanship.

Sligh leather tops are made from specially processed leather, which makes them tougher and more uniform in thickness than a single piece of hide. Because these are real leather tops, slight naturally occurring bumps and irregularities should be expected. Wood products may have slight variances in color due to wood grain and natural characteristics of wood material. Shrinkage and expansion of wood solids and veneers may occur with changes in temperature, humidity and altitude. These normal characteristics of wood furniture products are not covered under any warranty.

Some states do not allow limitations on how long an implied warranty lasts, so the above limitation may not apply to you. This warranty gives you specific legal rights that vary from state to state.

All express and implied warranties, including implied warranties of merchantability and fitness for purpose, are limited to a period of one year for date of purchase.
